

Mexican Heritage

Animated/Live-action Short Film Program

Grades 3-5 (Ages 9-11)

90-minute program includes media education

Celebrate Mexican traditions as these characters explore their cultural heritage. In an inventive child-produced animated short film, ponder poetic questions with Frida Kahlo's personal journal. Then, in a short documentary, share the experience of local children in Matamoros as they empower themselves to change fellow citizens' habits and attitudes. In another film, is it possible to not stick out too much at the dance wearing Dad's treasured tuxedo? In the next film, will math whiz Moises fit in at his new school during test time? In the last film, score a goal with playful Pepe, who would rather pass the soccer ball than help his family with the upcoming Quinceañera. Celebrate heritage and culture with these shorts from Mexico and the US!
