

Jewish Heritage: Reflections

Animated/Live-action Short Film Program

Grades 6-9 (Ages 11-15)

80-minute program includes media education

Join us as we celebrate Jewish American Heritage , as told by children and young people in five amazing films. In one, a narrator remembers his days at summer camp, where an anti-Semitic teacher attracts national attention for some incendiary comments. The youngsters' community decides to amend the situation by bringing the campers to an interfaith basketball game in order to teach the children tolerance and understanding, with some unexpected results. In the next four films, characters recollect acts of kindness and resourcefulness in tales that span across years and borders during the Second World War. Inventive filmmaking combines with powerful storytelling in these live-action, animated and documentary short films.

Films from Canada, the Czech Republic, Germany, the Netherlands and the US.
